Tucano and the environment: a 360° commitment

Protecting the environment is a priority at Tucano. We embarked on a sustainable path several years ago, which focuses on the recycling and processing of plastic. Currently, almost all of our collections are made of fabrics created from recycled plastic and, as part of our commitment to sustainability, we've recently added new products that are completely biodegradable.

Bags and Backpacks

At Tucano, we're not satisfied with just designing new sustainable products every day, we're also revisiting our most iconic collections in an eco-friendly way, because we want to implement the kind of large-scale and a good result for the environment. Suffice it to say that to make an R-PET backpack, up to 30 bottles are saved from the landfill.

Sleeves and Hardshell

This year we've also given a green touch to our most iconic products: sleeves. Made with an external fabric obtained from recycled plastic bottles, Tucano's Second Skin® collections protect your devices and respect the environment while offering maximum elasticity thanks to their neoprene lining.
